

Death of John Neenan.

John Neenan, an aged citizen long and familiarly known in Plattsburg was stricken with paralysis last Friday morning, and died Saturday morning. Funeral services were held at St. Ann's Church Monday morning and his body was taken to St. Joseph for burial.

Mr. Neenan was a very genial spirited man, and seemed always a very welcome person in any company he joined. He had the respect of the community. His son James Neenan survives him here. Deceased was about seventy years old, having been born June 12, 1836. He had formerly lived in St. Joseph.
